III. General Professional Experience:

I have practiced law for more than 20 years as a commercial and general civil litigator. Having spent the first ten years of my legal career with various firms, the last of which merged into what is now KMZ Rosenman (www.kmzr.com), I commenced a dual practice as litigator and neutral party. I am a principal of the firm of Simeon H. Baum, Esq., New York, New York concentrating on business litigation. I am also President of Resolve Mediation Services, Inc. (<http://www.disputeResolve.com>) offering mediation and other neutral dispute resolution services.

As a litigator, I have represented clients in a wide variety of areas, including complex commercial litigation, securities litigation, reinsurance matters, insurance industry matters, tort defense, employment disputes, unfair competition, intellectual property, real estate, coop/condo litigation, defamation, construction litigation, Uniform Commercial Code ("UCC"), creditors' rights, bankruptcy, business fraud, and partnership dissolution. Both as a litigator and a mediator, I have handled substantial eight figure disputes.

IV. Experience and Familiarity with Bankruptcy Law:

In 1989, for the months immediately prior to the dissolution of the New York office of Certilman Haft, et al. (after its acquisition by Rivkin Radler Dunne & Bayh), I worked for Martin F. Brecker, in the firm's bankruptcy department. I was involved in adversary proceedings, wrote briefs on bankruptcy issues and made appearances in Bankruptcy court for the Southern District, at that time. Most of these matters were on behalf of corporate debtors. Following the dissolution of that New York office, Mr. Brecker joined the firm of Anderson Kill & Olick, P.C.

Subsequently, in my own representation of commercial parties, particularly creditors, I have had to perform bankruptcy related analyses (such as on preferences) or analyses of priorities among creditors in connection with the planning for, or actual collection of debts where there is a possibility that the debtor might file for bankruptcy protection. I have also represented parties in secured transactions, further requiring an understanding of lien perfection and priorities among creditors. I became a mediator for the U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Southern District of New York, in 1999.

V. Mediation Training:

First ADR training: Early Neutral Evaluation/Mediation Training; a two or three day course given by Linda Singer, Michael Lewis (and possibly Margaret Shaw or Nancy Rogers) for neutrals in the EDNY ADR program. I estimate that this took place in 1992 or 1993. This involved lecture, role plays and feedback.

Thereafter, I took courses through the SDNY ADR program and elsewhere, essentially for the panels listed in answer to 2(d), above.

Much of my learning has been in the role of facilitator or teacher in other ADR programs.

I facilitated mediation training in the following programs:

- Two day training in Mediation Course, International Center for Cooperation and Conflict Resolution, Columbia University Teachers College Winter 1997;
- Day training in Mediation Course, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Spring 1998, and facilitated with feedback in mediation role play one day, January 1999;
- Three day training of NASD and Bankruptcy Court Mediators, Winter 1997-'98, and, again, same three day course in October 1998.

In addition, through serving as CLE Chair of the New York County Lawyers' Association ("NYCLA") Committee on Arbitration and ADR, and as Chair of that Committee, I have participated in the formation, moderation and as a member on a number of panels on topics relating to ADR, including:

- "Impasse Breaking Techniques in Mediation" Winter 1998;
- "Hot Topics in Securities Arbitration" Spring 1998 (co-sponsor to Securities Committee);
- "Hot Topics in Securities Arbitration" Spring 1996;
- "How to Represent Your Clients Successfully in the New Mandatory Mediation and Early Neutral Evaluation Programs in the U.S. District Courts"; and also through activities as a member of the New York State Bar Association ("NYSBA") ADR Committee and on the American Bar Association's Litigation Section's ADR Committee in the following capacities:

- Panelist speaking on mediation in CLE program presented by NYSBA Securities Committee on Mediation and Arbitration in the Securities Industry, November 1998;
- Panelist (mediator) on NYSBA Committee on Alternative Dispute Resolution Program: "Effective Advocacy in Mediation," Winter 1997-98;
- Chair of Breakfast Program, ABA Litigation Section ADR Committee: Implications of the RAND Corporation Report on ADR in the Federal Courts, Summer 1997;
- Panelist, New York State Supreme Court, New York County, Commercial Division, Anniversary Neutrals' Luncheon Forum, Fall 1997 and Fall 1996.

In addition, I have taught the following ADR courses, as an adjunct Professor. These courses involved preparing role plays and other exercises for students designed to develop ADR skills, awareness of bargaining styles and methods, communication skills and other functions relating to ADR training:

- “Dispute Resolution Approaches and Processes” (25 hours), at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Summer Institute, Summer 2002 - 2004;
- “Negotiation” (25 hours), at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Spring 2002 - 2004;
- “Negotiation and Mediation” (25 hours), at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Summer Institute, Summer 1998 - 2001;
- “Fundamentals of ADR” (25 hours for each course), New York University School of Continuing and Professional Studies, Department of Finance, Law & Taxation, Certificate Program in Dispute Resolution.

In addition, I have trained mediators, developing and leading the following programs:

- Three day training program for mediators on the ADR panel of the Commercial Division of Supreme Court, New York County, developed manual and jointly led this training program, with Stephen A. Hochman.
- Two day training program for mediators on the ADR panel of the Commercial Division of Supreme Court, Westchester County, developed manual and led training program.

Apart from the above activities as a facilitator, trainer, teacher or panelist, I have attended numerous programs on ADR over several days at various of the ABA’s Annual Convention, and at the Dispute Resolution Section annual meetings.

Other Bar Committee work has offered significant learning opportunities. NYCLA’s ADR Committee has monthly luncheon meetings typically featuring a speaker on an ADR topic. Since approximately 1992, I have participated actively as a committee member, as CLE Chair, and ADR Committee Chair, where speakers and the discussion generated – while not role plays – nevertheless to be a fertile source of ADR learning. The same is true (although with lesser frequency) from participation in NYSBA and ABA ADR committees.

I have also been a guest speaker on the Accountants’ Role in ADR, Association of Accountants Administrators, Spring 1998, and before the New York Society of CPAs in November 1998.

In addition to the above, my pre-law involvement in undergraduate and graduate studies in the Comparative Study of Religion sensitized me to the importance of open listening, dialogue, cooperation and tolerance, which is an essential precondition to mediation skills.

VI. Mediation Experience:

I have been active in ADR since the early 1990s, serving on numerous ADR panels, taking leadership roles in ADR organizations; serving on ADR Advisory Groups to the courts; writing, teaching and training mediators and lawyers in connection with ADR. I designed and co-presented three day training programs for Commercial Division Mediators, for Supreme Court New York County, and designed and led two day trainings for Commercial Division mediators, Supreme Court Westchester County. I have taught ADR at NYU, and currently teach ADR courses at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law.

I have mediated over 400 disputes in a wide variety of areas, including employment matters through courts, Self Regulatory Organizations and government entities, agencies, and privately through Resolve Mediation Services, Inc.

VII. Area of Expertise:

I have practiced law for more than 20 years as a commercial and general civil litigator. Having spent the first ten years of my legal career with various firms, the last of which merged into what is now KMZ Rosenman (www.kmzr.com), I commenced a dual practice as litigator and neutral party.
